

Thank you for your interest in the Pod!

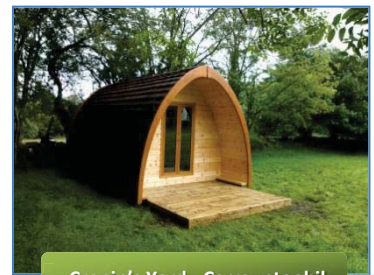

We believe in the Pod...

We believe in its environmental credentials and most importantly its commercial viability.

This price guide is intended as a brief introduction to the suite of products we offer here at Pods Ireland. If you would like to discuss your development in greater detail please feel free to call or drop us an email.

We are always happy to call into site to help you better understand how to make the Pod work in your location, again just drop us a line to arrange an appointment.

All our products are built right here in Ireland from our dedicated manufacturing site in Lixnaw, Co. Kerry. With over 200 sites across the UK & Europe and now starting to appear in North America & New Zealand, you can be sure you are dealing with the original and best!
